

2012 CAJUN SPRING CLASSIC

The 23rd annual Field Target event hosted by the Bayou Aigun Club. April 21st and 22nd.

Cajun country in the spring, there is no better facility in the world for field target. A huge thanks to BREC (Baton Rouge Recreation) for their dedication to helping the Bayou Airgun Club by providing a first class shooting range for all to enjoy. The Oaks were full of moss. The grass was green and the woods had provided plenty of shade.

Day one started out a little rainy and delayed the start until around 10:30. Once the rain cleared it was time to start shooting those pesky animals down range. I am sure all was glad when someone yelled out for the shooters meeting. We were very lucky to get the match completed without being interrupted by any more precipitation. Once the last shooter emerged from the woods, it was time for lunch. Bubbie Smith was in charge of the lunch menu and "WOW" he did not disappoint. There was a spread of BBQ like none other! Each shooter was provided a rack of delicious baby back ribs, chicken, sausage, brisket, and multiple sides with desert.

Day two was absolutely perfect weather for a field target match. Sun was shining and the temperature was like sitting on the sofa in your home. We held the shooters meeting around 8:15 and we were shooting for 8:30. Once again, when the last shooter emerged from the woods we ate like kings again. This time Bubbie Smith filled our stomachs with some world famous Jambalya, Boudin (Look it up), beans, salad and desert.

Both courses were challenging and also very shootable. The Belle Terre course was set up by Paul Plauche and Ron Harlow. The Lagniappe course was set up by our veteran Dr. Benny Lopoo. A big thanks to all club members who helped with clean up, set up and pick up.

It was a great match with quality people shooting field target in south Louisiana. Who could ask for anything better. Below are the results from the 2012 Cajun Spring Classic.
